

Travel Options for Swiss International Service Team members (IST)

As you read this, we assume you are interested in joining the Swiss Jamboree contingent as an IST. We would be very happy to have you in our contingent. To be an IST means, you are going to dedicate your time during the jamboree to make dreams come true for thousands of participants from around the globe.

We kindly ask you to read this information carefully and take your time to consider your options thoroughly before registering.

Before and/or after the Jamboree you might want to explore the region on your own. Thus, we offer you two different travel options to choose. Important:

- The package selection is only available at the time of your registration.
- Later changes are not permitted.
- You can only choose one of the options given. No mixing allowed (e.g. one-way flight).
- At a later stage, our travel agency will offer you pre or post jamboree tours around Korea for an additional fee. All IST will have access to these tours, no matter which package you choose now.

1 IST Option A: regular participation with complete itinerary («worry free package»)

With this option, all your travel expenses, e.g. official pre-meetings, transfers, flights, two extra nights in Korea before and/or after the Jamboree and more are included in your participation fee.

You may indicate preferred flight dates and our travel agent will try to accommodate them where possible. However, note that in any case you will have a return fare from Switzerland to Seoul (Airport Code: ICN).

2 IST Option B: participation without flight tickets and stopover in Seoul («adventurer package»)

You should choose this option in case you plan to explore the region before and/or after the jamboree at your own pace and to keep yourself flexible. Therefore:

- Flights and all other travel costs to/from the Jamboree are not included in your fee and you will need to take care of your own arrangements.
- You have to make sure, that you will arrive on time at the Jamboree welcome center (exact date and location will be communicated at a later stage). No delay permitted.

With this option, your fee covers the Jamboree camp fee and thus the privilege to be part of the Swiss contingent (still includes pre-meetings in Switzerland, contingent materials and so on) but, again, no travel related costs. You will have to get to and from the Jamboree site with arrangements at your own expense.

3 Payment plan

The participation fee you can pay in three installments. All payments are required in Swiss francs (CHF) transferred to the bank account indicated on the payment slip at the end of your registration confirmation.

If you choose to pay the full participation at once, you get a discount of CHF 50 or 100 respectively, but only in case complete payment is settled by November 30th, 2021.
